

FLAGSHIP EVENT STRATEGY

CRACK THE CASE.

Sponsorship & Outreach Plan

OUR APPROACH

We don't want to simply find companies and ask them for money. We want to find brands that already connect with college students and build a simple partnership that is useful for both sides.

Find the right brand

Make the right ask

Give something useful in return

PROPOSED TARGETS

Who We Will Approach

We will start small. Instead of contacting a large number of random companies, we will start with a few brands where we can clearly explain why they fit Crack the Case.

HCL GUVI

LEARNING / TECHNOLOGY

What we ask: Course vouchers, learning access or prizes.

Why: Related to students and learning, so Crack the Case participants are a highly relevant target audience.

Yippee Café @ REC

FOOD PARTNER

What we ask: Food, refreshments or food vouchers.

Why: Located right inside campus, and REC students are their direct everyday customers.

The Souled Store

PRIZE / LIFESTYLE

What we ask: Winner vouchers, merchandise or exclusive student offers.

Why: High brand affinity among college students; their products make ideal competition rewards.

Chennai Tech Startup

TECHNOLOGY / SUPPORT

What we ask: Products, software subscriptions, prizes or useful support.

Why: Strong natural connection between local tech startups, engineering students, and innovation events.

OUTREACH WORKFLOW

How We Will Approach Them

Simple process. Structured outreach without spam messaging.

PITCH TEMPLATES

Our Pitch

We won't send the same message to everyone. Tailored conversation starters.

Learning / Tech Partner Pitch

Target: E-Learning Platforms & Tech Brands

"Hi, I'm Visal from , Rajalakshmi Engineering College. We're organising Crack the Case, a major student event, and we're looking for a few partners for the event.

Since your brand is related to students and learning, I thought there could be a good fit. We were thinking about course vouchers, prizes or some student-focused support rather than only a normal sponsorship.

Can I share the details with you?"

Local Food Business Pitch

Target: On-Campus / Nearby Outlets

"Hi, I'm from  at REC. We're organising Crack the Case and are looking for a food partner.

We were thinking about food/vouchers for participants or winners instead of a normal cash sponsorship. Would you be interested in discussing it?"

DEAL CLOSING

From First Message to Closed Deal

IF NO REPLY

Day 1	First message sent
Day 3-4	Polite follow-up
